

BUILDING A LIBRARY MANAGEMENT PROGRAM FOR NGUYEN VAN HUYEN HIGH SCHOOL, TUYEN QUANG PROVINCE

nan

Abstract: Today, along with the development of science and technology, computer technology has achieved many great accomplishments, if not miraculous breakthroughs. Computers have been and are being widely used in tasks that previously required human hands in the form of manual labor with low productivity and poor work quality. With the continuous emergence and development of computer technology today, it has partially met the demands of life, production, and scientific research, and has transformed the face of society.
