

Developing a management system for Duc Hue Spicy Restaurant

Ha Duc Thang

Abstract: In the current context, effective restaurant management is a necessary issue to improve service quality and optimize operational processes. This topic focuses on developing a specialized management system for Quán Cay Đức Huệ Restaurant to address the problem of organizing management tasks, thereby improving work efficiency and best meeting customer needs. The research method applied includes a combination of modern management principles with direct experimentation at the restaurant. The main objective is to build a comprehensive, flexible, and scalable management system, thereby providing a feasible solution for the food service industry. The expected results of the topic not only contribute to improving service quality in the restaurant sector but also bring practical value to Quán Cay Đức Huệ Restaurant.

Keywords: Management system, restaurant, efficient management, information technology, food service