

Building a website to support, care for, and protect pets: OurBoss

Nguyen Thanh Cong

Abstract: In the context of the growing demand for pet care in the community, this topic focuses on building a specialized website called OurBoss aimed at providing useful information on raising, caring for, and protecting domestic animals. Through a process of theoretical research combined with experimentation, we aim to solve the problem of helping pet owners easily access reliable sources of information and professional guidance. The OurBoss website is expected to make an important contribution to improving the quality of care for pets.

Keywords: Website, Pet care, Information technology, Animal data, Animal protection