

Building a personnel management program for Huong Son Primary School in Thai Nguyen City

Ngo Van Thiem

Abstract: This topic aims to meet the need to improve the efficiency of personnel management in primary schools in the Huong Son area, Thai Nguyen City. The objective of the research is to build and deploy an intelligent personnel management system, optimizing the management and development of teachers and staff. The research method combines experimentation and practical application to ensure feasibility. The expected results of this topic will contribute significantly to improving the quality of education and enhancing the organization's work performance.

Keywords: Personnel management, Intelligent systems, Primary education, Information technology, Team development