

Evaluating the effectiveness of work schedule management at the People's Committee of Dinh Phong Commune - Trung Khanh District - Cao Bang Province

Hoang Thi Kim

Abstract: This topic is set to evaluate the effectiveness of the current work schedule management system at the People's Committee of Dinh Phong Commune, Trung Khanh District, Cao Bang Province. Thereby, it analyzes the causes of limitations and proposes improvement solutions to enhance work productivity. The research method combines field surveys and data analysis to provide useful information for management agencies. This topic is expected to contribute to building an effective management model in other administrative units.

Keywords: Work schedule management, Commune People's Committee, Work productivity, Field survey, Data analysis