

Application of Microsoft Excel software in the management of marriage registration and birth registration at Túc Tranh Commune People's Committee - Phú Lương District - Thái Nguyên Province

Tran Thi Phuong

Abstract: This topic focuses on applying Microsoft Excel software to improve the management and processing of marriage registration and birth registration records at the People's Committee of Tuc Tranh Commune. The goal is to optimize the performance of personal information management, minimize errors, and enhance data accuracy. The research method includes assessing the current situation, designing and implementing a software system, and then testing the application in practice at the Commune People's Committee. Through this process, the topic expects to achieve significant improvements in the efficiency of local population information management.

Keywords: Microsoft Excel, marriage registration management, birth registration, software system, process improvement