

Building a sales application for the Tien Phong - Thai Nguyen bookstore using Android.

Pham Ba Minh Luat

Abstract: This topic focuses on designing and deploying a mobile application for online book sales to enhance the shopping experience of customers at Tien Phong bookstore in Thai Nguyen. The goal is to create an intelligent, easy-to-use system with a friendly Android interface. Through theoretical and experimental research, the topic is expected to build an application that fully meets the enterprise's requirements for product management, order processing, and electronic payment. The expected results are improved business performance, enhanced customer interaction, and expanded operational scale.

Keywords: Android application, Online sales, Bookstore, Sales management system, Mobile technology