

Build a phone sales website for Anh Tham store - Bac Giang

Nguyen Trong Trung

Abstract: In the context of the strong development of information technology and e-commerce, building a quality sales website is an urgent need for stores like Anh Tham in Bắc Giang. This project aims to build a professional website system to serve the mobile phone business activities of the store. Through the process of research, proposal, and application deployment, the project applies a combined theoretical and experimental approach to ensure comprehensiveness and effectiveness. This project hopes to contribute to improving the quality of e-commerce services in the region and provide users with a convenient and safe online shopping experience.
