

Research on security and safety in e-commerce and its application for IMUS Investment Development Joint Stock Company

Dang Thi My Duyen

Abstract: In the context of the rapid development of e-commerce, ensuring security has become a decisive factor for success. This topic aims to address the issue of security risks in online business operations and build an information security management system for IMUS Investment Development Joint Stock Company. The research methodology includes theoretical analysis, current status assessment, and implementation of practical application solutions. The expected result is a significant improvement in the enterprise's security level while enhancing its competitiveness in the e-commerce market.

Keywords: Security, e-commerce, information security management system, IMUS Investment Development Joint Stock Company