

Mobilizing foreign direct investment capital for the economic development of Thai Nguyen province

Nguyen Thi Bao Yen

Abstract: This topic aims to analyze the context and rationale for selecting the research topic based on the necessity of mobilizing FDI capital for the economic development of Thai Nguyen province. The objective is to build an effective foreign investment attraction strategy, addressing the capital shortage in local economic projects. The research methodology includes synthesizing information from documents and field surveys, combined with data analysis to propose specific solutions. The significance of the topic lies in its potential contribution to the sustainable development of Thai Nguyen province's economy.

Keywords: FDI, foreign investment attraction, local economy, development strategy, Thai Nguyen