

Building sales management software for Quang Tuan Technical Services Company Limited, using ASP.Net language.

Hoang Viet Dieu

Abstract: In the context of increasingly complex sales management due to the large number of products and transactions, this topic focuses on building a Sales Management software system to optimize operational processes at Quang Tuan DVKTCN Company Limited. The project's objective is to develop an ASP.Net application to support faster and more efficient management of customers, products, and orders. The research method combines academic approaches with experimentation to ensure the feasibility of the proposed solution. The expected outcome of this topic is to provide a powerful tool for Quang Tuan to improve sales productivity and service quality, making a significant contribution to the company's business development.

Keywords: Sales Management Software, ASP.Net, Quang Tuan Technical Services Company Limited