

Testing website for handmade goods from Australia

Doan Thi Thanh Huong

Abstract: This topic focuses on comprehensively testing a website specializing in handmade goods from Australia, aiming to ensure the quality of information and system functionality. Through theoretical research combined with direct experimentation, the goal is to develop an effective testing process and build a set of product quality evaluation indicators. The expected results will contribute to enhancing the brand reputation and customer experience of the website.

Keywords: Web testing, Handmade goods, Australian origin, Quality assessment, Testing process