

Producing the 2D animated film "Life Lessons".

Nguyen Thi Hong Hanh

Abstract: This topic aims to meet cultural and educational needs by creating a 2D animated film titled 'Life Lessons'. Through theoretical research on modeling styles and techniques, combined with production experimentation, the work will provide essential moral values and knowledge for young people. The methods used in this topic include target market analysis, character design, and scriptwriting based on appropriate educational content. The expected outcome is the creation of a highly educational film, contributing to a diverse and effective cultural education system.

Keywords: 2D animated film, educational, animal characters, school setting