

Building an online children's clothing sales website

Nguyen Tien Nam

Abstract: This topic aims to meet the convenient shopping needs of parents by building a website specializing in children's clothing. The objective of the research is to design and deploy an e-commerce system, applying modern web technology to provide an effective online sales solution. The method used combines theoretical and experimental research to ensure practicality in building the website. The expected results of the topic not only help enhance user experience but also contribute to the development of e-commerce for small businesses in children's fashion.

Keywords: Children's clothing e-commerce website, web design, management information system