

Improving the efficiency of managing records of poor and near-poor households in Chau Tien Commune – Quy Hop District – Nghe An Province.

Cao Thi Lan

Abstract: This article addresses the practical context of managing records of poor and near-poor households in Chau Tien commune, Quy Hop district, Nghe An province. Through theoretical research combined with practical analysis, the study aims to identify factors affecting the effectiveness of this management work and propose solutions to enhance management capacity. The methods applied include statistical surveys, direct interviews, and data analysis. Thereby, the study seeks to provide a foundation for improving the quality of record management, contributing to sustainable poverty reduction.

Keywords: Management of poor household records, solutions to improve efficiency, Chau Tien commune