

Application of information technology in tax accounting at Dung Binh Company Limited, Thai Nguyen

Vu Thi Thu Nga

Abstract: This topic aims to determine the necessity and importance of applying information technology (IT) to tax accounting at Dung Binh Company Limited, Thai Nguyen province. The main objective is to analyze the current situation and propose solutions to optimize the tax management process through IT systems. Through research, a combined method of theoretical and empirical study was applied to evaluate the effectiveness of implementing IT applications in this field. The expected results are to improve the performance of tax accounting, minimize risks, and enhance effective financial management for the enterprise.

Keywords: Application of information technology, Tax accounting, Financial management, Dung Binh Company Limited, Thai Nguyen