

Research and development of a financial analysis program at the Vietnam Bank for Agriculture and Rural Development – Nhu Thanh district branch – Thanh Hoa

Do Thi Nghia Hoa

Abstract: This topic aims to research and build a financial analysis program at the Vietnam Bank for Agriculture and Rural Development - Nhu Thanh District, Thanh Hoa Branch. The context of the topic is determined from the current financial management situation of rural banks. The objective is to build an analysis system that helps improve the efficiency of financial management, while ensuring compliance with financial legal regulations. The research method combines literature review and empirical analysis at the site. The expected results will bring great value to the bank in enhancing financial management capacity, while contributing to scientific research on financial management in rural areas.

Keywords: Financial research, Agricultural bank, Financial management, Financial analysis, Rural Vietnam