

Building a general accounting program to serve auditing work for An Viet Auditing Company Limited - Hai Phong Branch

Nguyễn Thị Hồng

Abstract: This topic aims to address the essential issue of financial information management in the auditing system of An Viet Auditing Company Limited at the Hai Phong Branch. The objective is to build a general accounting program to support more effective auditing work. The research methodology includes analyzing the current situation and practical requirements, designing the system, and deploying the application in a real-world environment. The expected result is to provide a suitable technical solution, improving the productivity and quality of auditing work.

Keywords: Auditing, General Accounting, Information Technology, Financial Management System, Hai Phong Branch