

Building an online English learning website for students of Le Quy Don High School - Thai Binh

Vu Thi An

Abstract: This topic aims to meet the increasing foreign language learning needs of high school students. The main objective is to build an online system that supports effective English learning, suitable for high school students at Le Quy Don High School - Thai Binh. The research methodology includes requirements analysis, user interface design, and web application deployment. The topic hopes to bring a fresh learning experience, enhance students' self-study ability, and support teachers in the teaching process.

Keywords: Online website, English, online learning, Le Quy Don High School - Thai Binh, education system