

Building a cash accounting program at Phuong Dong Construction and Trading Service Joint Stock Company - Vinh Phuc

Dao Thi Thu Huong

Abstract: In the context of increasingly important financial management, this topic focuses on building a cash accounting program system for Phuong Dong Construction and Trading Service Joint Stock Company in Vinh Phuc. The objective of the research is to address the problem of improving cash flow management efficiency through the development of a specialized support tool. The research is conducted by combining theoretical study of accounting with practical application of the system in the company's real environment. The expected results will make a significant contribution to effective financial management, thereby enhancing the company's competitiveness and business growth.

Keywords: Cash accounting, Financial management, Construction company, Accounting support system, Vinh Phuc