

Research and development of some main functions for the payroll accounting program at G7 Financial Investment and Trading Joint Stock Company - Hanoi

Vu Phuong Thuy

Abstract: In the context of increasingly demanding professionalism in human resource management, this topic focuses on researching and designing key functions of the payroll accounting system for G7 Financial Investment and Trading Joint Stock Company. The goal is to build an effective support system for managing, analyzing, and reporting labor costs to optimize business operations. Through theoretical research combined with empirical study, the topic hopes to make a significant contribution to technical solutions in the human resources field, while creating a useful tool for improving payroll management efficiency at G7.

Keywords: Payroll accounting, Human resource management system, G7 Financial Investment and Trading Joint Stock Company