

Research on Oracle database management system and application of building a personnel management program for Phu Binh district post office branch - Thai Nguyen province post office.

Trương Thị Dung

Abstract: This topic aims to thoroughly study Oracle database administration to solve the problem of building an effective human resource management system at the Phu Binh district post office branch. By synthesizing and analyzing theoretical knowledge, combined with experimentation in a real environment, the topic will bring great application value to the postal and telecommunications industry in general and Thai Nguyen Provincial Post Office in particular.

Keywords: Oracle Database Administration, Human Resource Management System, Post Office, Experiment, Optimization