

Building the accounting subsystem for raw materials at Hong Ha - Bac Kan Joint Stock Company

Bui Thi Trang

Abstract: In the context of increasingly complex financial management and accounting, this topic aims to address the modernization of material control processes by building a specialized accounting subsystem for Hong Ha - Bac Kan Joint Stock Company. Through a comprehensive study of legal regulations and accounting management practices, combined with an assessment of the company's specific needs, the topic applies theoretical methods to design and implement the system, meeting the requirements for detailed and efficient operational tracking. The research results not only enhance the quality of financial management but also contribute to building a digital foundation for the company's production and business activities.

Keywords: Accounting for raw materials, Hong Ha - Bac Kan Joint Stock Company, Financial management, Accounting subsystem, Digital technology