

Building purchase and sale accounting at Nha Xinh - Thai Nguyen Consulting and Trading Company Limited

Hoang Thi Ly

Abstract: In the context of increasingly stringent financial management, this topic aims to research and implement a merchandise purchase and sale accounting system for Nha Xinh Consulting and Trading Company Limited in Thai Nguyen. The objective of the study is to build an effective management process through practical analysis and the application of international accounting principles. The research methodology includes surveying the current situation, based on accounting theory and experimentation with the new system. The significance of the topic lies not only in enhancing the enterprise's financial management capacity but also in contributing to the development of the local economic-consulting and trading sector.

Keywords: Purchase and sale accounting, financial management, Nha Xinh Consulting and Trading Company Limited, Thai Nguyen