

Building an accounting program for materials at Tan Viet Biotechnology Joint Stock Company - Ha Nam

Tran Thi Nguyen

Abstract: This topic focuses on building a material accounting management system for Tan Viet - Ha Nam Biotechnology Joint Stock Company. The objective of the research is to improve the efficiency of material management through digital tools. The applied method combines both theoretical and experimental research to evaluate the feasibility of the solution. Expected results from the topic include providing an effective system, contributing to enhancing work productivity and reducing costs in the field of material management.

Keywords: Materials accounting, biotechnology, warehouse management, digitalization system, process improvement