

Optimization of the Inbuilding system for the Trung Hoa - Nhan Chinh urban area

Bui Anh Minh

Abstract: The study aims to evaluate and optimize the Inbuilding system in the Trung Hoa - Nhan Chinh urban area, addressing issues of energy efficiency and the environment. Through theoretical analysis combined with experimentation, it proposes appropriate technical solutions and management policies to improve quality of life and minimize environmental impact. Expected results will contribute to the sustainable development of the urban area.

Keywords: Inbuilding, System optimization, Urban area, Renewable energy, Sustainable development